

Small Flock Biosecurity Workshop

Hosted by Alberta Agriculture and Forestry

FREE if registered in advance

Learn practical strategies to keep your small flock healthy from infectious disease! Register for a FREE biosecurity workshop in your area. Hands on activities, producer/owner discussions and guest speakers will introduce biosecurity practices to small-flock owners to help keep multi-generational poultry flocks healthy.

Date and Locations:

- June 11, Saturday, 9:45 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. at Peavey Mart Head Office, Red Deer
- June 20, Monday, 9:45 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. at O.S. Longman Building, Edmonton
- Fall 2016 in Grande Prairie area and Vermillion area
- Winter 2017 in High River area

To Register:

Send your name, email address and phone number, requested location and any dietary restrictions to Nichole at seelprojects@gmail.com or call Nichole at 780.233.0472.

- Coffee and lunch will be provided to pre-registered participants
- Space is limited to 20 participants
- Register 7 days prior to workshop date to secure your spot!

For more information about this and upcoming biosecurity workshops, please contact Dr. Chunu Mainali at 780-415-9624 (dial 310-0000 first for toll-free access in Alberta) or Nichole Boutilier at 780-233-0472.