Meghan joined Alberta Agriculture and Forestry in 2016 as a Trade and Relations Officer responsible for Mexico and Latin America. In her role, she promotes Alberta's agricultural exports through the coordination of incoming and outgoing trade missions, and supports Alberta companies by connecting them with trade leads and market intelligence.

Meghan holds a Bachelor's Degree with Great Distinction in International Management, as well as a Diploma in Asia-Pacific Business Management. Meghan's international experience includes studying at Universidad Panamericana in Mexico and Kamalbe Spanish School in Guatemala, working in the hospitality sector in China, and volunteering in education development in Northern India.

Prior to this role, Meghan worked on trade initiatives with Alberta's former Ministry of International and Intergovernmental Relations, and with Canada's former Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade.
